

Associate Dean for Academic Affairs

A tremendous opportunity to join the number one school of nursing in the country as the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs (ADAA) and serving as the Chief Academic Officer within the School of Nursing.

Opportunity

Duke University School of Nursing seeks entrepreneurially minded candidates who thrive in a fast paced, flexible, supportive environment with demonstrated academic administrative leadership in complex major medical teaching universities. The ideal candidate is a national leader in nursing education with strong scholarship and excellent interpersonal skills. This individual is highly organized and excels at balancing the needs of faculty, staff and students.

The ADAA reports directly to the Executive Vice-Dean and represents the school within Duke Health, Duke University and the outside community on matters related to the programs of instruction. As a member of the senior leadership team, the ADAA works closely with the school's other associate deans to provide coordinated leadership of the school.

About Duke University School of Nursing

Duke University School of Nursing blends the best of Duke University and Duke Medicine to provide opportunities and experiences in learning, in professional contacts, and in the social sphere that are uniquely Duke. Innovation is viewed in the broadest possible sense of the word as the realization of new programs and projects solving problems and serving social needs. DUSON champions innovation and entrepreneurship in nursing practice, research, and education.

Academic Programs

Students and faculty engage in collaborative learning opening pathways to expanded opportunities in the field of nursing. The curricula for Duke's Accelerated Bachelor of Science in Nursing (ABSN), Master of Science in Nursing (MSN), Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP), and PhD in Nursing degree programs are based on the conviction that knowledge is meant to be used in service to communities and the world. Post-doctoral and certificate programs facilitate on-going education and/or research within the field of nursing.

Center for Nursing Discovery

In the Center for Nursing Discovery (CND), DUSON students use high-fidelity adult and pediatric mannequins in a simulated clinical setting, learning crucial patient-care skills. The CND harnesses the latest advances in technology to take nursing instruction beyond the classroom so learners can become clinical leaders in providing excellent patient care.

Research

Duke University School of Nursing faculty members and students are actively involved in research and scholarship, generating new knowledge and translating evidence into practice.
