

NURSING FACULTY OPPORTUNITY

Nurse Anesthesia Faculty Member

The Duke University School of Nursing invites applications for part-time non-regular rank (NRR) faculty positions in the Nurse Anesthesia Program. NRR faculty members are responsible for participating in a dynamic faculty role that includes on-campus and online didactic instruction, on-campus simulation instruction, on-campus workshops, assisting with clinical site management and visits, monitoring various evaluations, and engaging clinical partners in the development of DNP scholarly project partnerships. The NRR faculty member will also serve on DNP scholarly committees, participate in the student admissions process, and be responsible for supporting the instruction and evaluation of students in clinical and simulation laboratory.

Qualified candidates possess an earned doctoral degree, have at least 3-years of experience as a Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist (CRNA), are currently active in clinical practice as a CRNA, and hold an unencumbered RN license. Recent graduate level teaching experience is preferred. In 2018, US News and World Reports ranked Duke University School of Nursing #3 of all nursing schools and the nurse anesthesia specialty # 3 of all nurse anesthesia programs. The Duke University Nurse Anesthesia Program is nationally recognized for excellence and is accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Nurse Anesthesia Educational Programs. The 36-month Doctor of Nursing Practice program admits approximately 25 students annually with total enrollment of 75 full time students. Our graduates consistently surpass the national average on the National Certification Exam, are professionally involved, and have high publication rates for their DNP Scholarly Projects.

Application deadline is July 1st, 2021 with a target hire date of August 13th, 2021. Individuals interested in joining an outstanding group of nursing professionals in an interdisciplinary environment conducive to teaching and practice should email a curriculum vitae, the names and contact information of three references, and a letter detailing their interest in and qualifications for this opportunity addressing specific areas of teaching experiences, service and commitment to diversity, to:

Dr. Chris Simmons Muckler, DNP, CRNA, CHSE-A, FAAN
