Dear Marion,

Wow! What an impressive list of accolades in the latest U.S. News and World Report. It was absolutely thrilling news that Duke has been named #4 among the best graduate nursing schools in the nation. You, faculty and staff have so much to be proud of at the School of Nursing.

As an adjunct faculty member who teaches graduate students at three of our state's universities, I was not at all surprised that Duke's DNP program was also ranked extremely high in this inaugural list, coming in at #3. As a member of your Board of Advisors and as an associate clinical faculty member, I am continually impressed with the caliber of your DNP faculty and students on each of my visits to Duke.

Congratulations to you and to everyone at Duke University School of Nursing! Your students and their patients are the real winners today.

Sincerely,

Representative Gale Adcock
