

FACULTY OPPORTUNITY

PhD Program Director

The Duke University School of Nursing invites applications for a regular rank faculty member to serve as Director of our PhD Program. The Director, in collaboration with Graduate Faculty and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, is responsible and accountable for the overall academic integrity of the PhD program and coordinates student and faculty activities within the program. Candidates should hold an earned PhD in nursing or related field, be eligible for licensure as a registered nurse in North Carolina, meet the criteria for appointment as tenured Associate Professor or Professor, have a history of experience in PhD nursing education, and be engaged in active nursing scholarship. Prior experience in academic administration is preferred.

The Duke Nursing community includes nearly 90 full-time faculty members, over 120 staff members and approximately 1000 students. The School offers four degree programs: ABSN, MSN, DNP and PhD. More information on the School and the programs can be found at nursing.duke.edu. Duke University offers an unusually rich, interdisciplinary environment conducive to teaching, practice, and research across the undergraduate, graduate, and professional schools (Nursing, Medicine, Policy, Divinity, Business, Law, Engineering and Environment) and various sponsored institutes. Duke is rated by its employees as one of the best places to work in the Triangle area and offers a competitive salary and benefits package. The School of Nursing was ranked #1 in the 2018 US News and World Report rankings of graduate nursing programs at both the master's and DNP levels and #4 among Schools of Nursing receiving NIH funding in 2016.

Applications are currently being accepted for this position and to ensure consideration, applications should be received by September 1, 2017. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Preferred hiring date is January, 2018. Interested individuals should forward a curriculum vitae and cover letter detailing their interest in and qualifications for this opportunity and addressing specific areas of teaching and clinical experiences, areas of scholarship, service and commitment to diversity, along with the names and contact information for three references to Duke University School of Nursing, Attn: Director, Faculty Affairs, 307 Trent Drive, DUMC 3322, Durham, NC 27710 via email to sonfacul@dm.duke.edu. Individuals from under-represented groups are encouraged to apply.
