

NURSING FACULTY OPPORTUNITY

Assistant or Associate Professor, Tenure Track

The Duke University School of Nursing invites applications from faculty candidates with a career commitment to research and teaching for a position with the School. Candidates eligible for this position will have demonstrated strong potential for developing a program of funded scientific research. PhD (or DNSc) preparation is required. For candidates with no federal funding a funded post-doctoral experience is required. Those who have a track record of federal funding as principal investigator will be given strong preference as well as those whose research is aligned with priorities in the school's strategic plan <http://nursing.duke.edu/strategic-planning>). Teaching contributions are expected as is continued research productivity. Faculty appointments will be made at the Assistant or Associate Professor rank on the tenure earning track.

The Duke Nursing community includes approximately 90 full-time faculty members, over 120 staff members and approximately 1,000 students. The School offers four degree programs: ABSN, MSN, DNP and PhD. More information on the School and the programs can be found at nursing.duke.edu. Duke University offers an unusually rich, interdisciplinary environment conducive to teaching, practice, and research across the undergraduate, graduate, and professional schools (Nursing, Medicine, Divinity, Business, Law, Engineering, Environment and Public Policy) and various sponsored institutes. Duke is rated by its employees as one of the best places to work in the Triangle area and offers a competitive salary and benefits package, and the Duke University School of Nursing was ranked #1 in the most recent U.S. News and World Report rankings of graduate nursing programs (2018) and the DNP program #1. Among Schools of Nursing receiving NIH funding in 2016, DUSON was ranked #4.

Applications are due by October 15, 2017 for a targeted start date of July 1, 2018. Interested individuals should email a curriculum vitae and cover letter detailing their specific teaching and clinical experience, areas of scholarship and service, and commitment to diversity with this opportunity, along with the names and contact information for three references to Duke University School of Nursing, Attn: Director, Faculty Affairs, to sonfacul@dm.duke.edu.
